

Three Calls You Don't Want to Miss: Discovering and Operating in Your Purpose, Aubrey P. Keys, Guardian Angel Communications Services, 2004, 0974760013, 9780974760018, . This book is designed to change your paradigms of thinking about the way you view your salvation, how you view the next stage of development after salvation, what you do in ministry/service, and how you view ministry/service in general. One of the difficulties that those within the body of Christ must understand is that His followers are not here just to go to church on Sundays and attend conferences and seminars. The Lord of life has designed every person for a role that only that person can fulfill. What is given to us by God through the Holy Spirit is a specific giftedness and purpose. Three Calls includes a spiritual gifts inventory to help you understand your God-given personal giftedness and purpose. Intended for clergy and laity alike, by studying Three Calls You Don't Want to Miss! you will transform your thinking about your purpose in ministry and discipleship..
