We're All in this Together: A Play, David Logan, Brisbane Dramatic Arts Company, 2008, 0980456347, 9780980456349, . A topical new play on the theme of 'bullying' by Australian playwright and drama educator, Dr. David Logan. The play is specifically designed for secondary drama students to perform before a primary school audience. It contains seven roles, each with their own monologue and was first performed by a leading Australian school for boys. Roles are well suited for performance by both boys and girls..
